

has not revealed an error, which is discovered later;

3. That the strict enforcement of this Ordinance would deprive the owner or applicant of reasonable use of the property that is substantially consistent with the intent of this Ordinance;
4. That the granting of a variance will not result in advantages or special privileges to the applicant or property owner that this Ordinance denies to other land, structures, or uses in the same district, and it is the minimum variance necessary to provide relief;
5. That the variance shall not be materially detrimental to the health, safety or welfare of persons residing or working in the neighborhood. Consideration of the effects of the variance shall include but not be limited to, increases in activity, noise, or traffic resulting from any expansion of uses allowed by the variance;
6. That the proposed use and the appearance of any proposed addition or alteration will be compatible with, and not negatively impact, nearby properties; and
7. That the variance will not result in the expansion of a nonconforming use.

In the case of expansions to nonconforming structures, the variance granted shall be the smallest that is reasonably necessary.

Please note that simply stating during the hearing that the seven (7) findings above are met is not sufficient evidence to allow the approving authority to make the seven (7) findings above.

FROM THE

PLANNING BOARD

Or

BOARD OF ADJUSTMENT

QUASI-JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS

Proceedings to consider whether to issue a Variance or Special Exception Permit are “quasi-judicial” in nature.

Quasi-judicial is a term used to describe those proceedings where public administrative officers or bodies are required to hold hearings, hear sworn testimony, weigh evidence, determine the existence of facts and draw conclusions as a basis for their decisions.

Quasi-judicial decisions are subject to appeal to Superior Court.

Applicants (and any opponents) are expected to call witnesses, qualify expert witnesses as subject matter experts, and elicit material and relevant testimony from witnesses to meet their burden of proof as to the specific findings the board is required to make. Applicants and opponents may cross-examine opposing witnesses. They should also be able to formulate any objections to preserve the issue and the record on appeal in the event the decision is appealed.

While it is perfectly acceptable for an applicant (or opponent) to represent him or herself (pro se) in a quasi-judicial proceeding, it is the unauthorized practice of law for a person who is not an active member of the North Carolina State Bar to appear for another at a quasi-judicial hearing or proceeding or to otherwise assist or represent another at such a hearing or proceeding.

SPECIAL EXCEPTION PERMIT

Applicants seeking a Special Exception Permit have the burden of presenting evidence sufficient to allow the approving authority to make the following findings:

1. That the proposed use is in keeping with the statement of intent for the zoning district;
2. That the proposed use will not substantially injure the value of adjoining or abutting property; and
3. That the proposed use meets all requirements and conditions of the Unified Development Ordinance.

Please note that simply stating during the hearing that the three (3) findings above are met is not sufficient evidence to allow the approving authority to make the three (3) findings above.

VARIANCE

Applicants seeking a variance have the burden of presenting evidence sufficient to allow the approving authority to make the following findings:

1. The special or unique circumstances or conditions or practical difficulties exist which apply to the land, buildings or uses involved which are not generally applicable to other land, buildings, structures, or uses in the same zoning districts;
2. That the special conditions or circumstances or practical difficulties do not result from the actions of the owner or applicant, their agent, employee, or contractor. Errors made by such persons in the development, construction, siting or marketing process shall not be grounds for a variance except in cases where a foundation survey submitted to the Building Official before a contractor proceeds beyond the foundation stage
